This list may prove useful throughout your time at Oxford. It should be possible to obtain most of the following in English from your local Public Library, bookshops, or the internet. Getting to know some of these authors will help you to make choices about options in due course. Happy browsing!

Nineteenth-century authors:

- Aleksandr PUSHKIN: any of the prose works (e.g. War and Peace and The Brothers Karamazov), and a selection of his lyric poetry such as might be found in any bilingual anthology such as The Pushkin Anthology.
- Anna BUNINA: any of her poems from the anthology The Pushkin Anthology, ed. by C. Kelly.
- Mikhail LERMONTOV: the novel The Hero of Our Time, plus a selection of his lyric poetry - see an anthology, as above under PUSHKIN.
- Karolina PAVLOVA: novel in verse The Captain's Daughter.
- Aleksandr ALEKSANDROV (Nadezhda Durova): autobiographical narrative The Captain's Daughter.

- Lidiia ZINOVIEBA-
